

As the moon makes its monthly journey around the earth, the side of the moon reflecting the sunlight is viewed from different angles.

